To our huge relief, four enormous lorries arrived last weekend with our new swimming pool changing rooms! An impressively large crane swung four units perilously close to the art room and our listed wall but we now have changing rooms, loos and showers next to the swimming pool which will be a huge improvement. The company have spent this week finishing off and connecting the electrics. We now need to do a bit more digging so that the water is connected but the changing part of the facility should be operational next week. The building will be linked to the swimming pool in due course. Huge thanks to everyone who donated towards the project; future generations of Moor Park children will thank you, particularly in the winter!

I am looking forward to the Ball next Friday which promises to be a really super event. Thank you to everyone who has been involved, perhaps in the planning or in donating auction lots or in a myriad of other small ways. It is a real team effort and we are all very grateful.

Well done to our shooting team last weekend and thank you to all of the parents who supported them in the build up and on the day. There were some fantastic results in a very competitive field and all of that practice certainly seemed to pay off. Thank you to Jo Cockroft for organising it all - a great effort over a number of weeks.

Tick Tock

The focus the last few weeks has been on outdoor learning. We have based our planning on The Very Hungry Caterpillar. The children have all enjoyed planting vegetables and digging in the garden. The Butterfly children this week have also been concentrating on colour recognition and looking at shapes around the setting. The Caterpillar room have been developing their fine motor skills while playing with playdough.

The Music Department

Message to Mrs King's Pupils:

I have just learned that the ISM teachers' pupils' concert that normally takes place in May has been postponed to the 16th of June, which is an exeat weekend.

Unfortunately I can't manage that date and so will not be forwarding any performers for the concert this year. Incidentally, I have yet to receive the ISM form from one or two parents/guardians. Please let me know if you've never heard of this.

There is another piece of information for those who may have wanted to take a Trinity exam this term. The date offered by Trinity is after the summer term ends, and so there won't be any entries through Moor Park School this term.

Practising: I am pleased that the majority of my pupils are really practising. This makes the lessons much more enjoyable and rewarding. It also saves money as arriving at a lesson when you haven't practised means you are actually going to pay to practise during that lesson - which is expensive for the pupil and not very interesting for the teacher! Please also remind children to bring their music books (including the notebook) to every lesson.

We shall celebrate this joy of practising with a party in the last week of this half term. Entry is by performance of a piece that a pupil has recently practised. There will also be a 'music spelling test' and a prize the pupil who has learned the most notes from the chart that I gave them. So please keep practising and learning. There's great personal reward for those who do!

Finally, I was very sorry to miss Anna and Charles' lessons this week. I do hope you feel much better very soon.

Mrs King

We all had a fabulous time at Muddy Mayhem last week. Full photos are now available to view on our Facebook Page Here. Please don't forget that the whole event was in aid of charity and there are prizes for the most sponsorship raised. For easy transition of funds, please use the Just Giving page Here or hand it to your form teachers. Remember to add the child's name into the comments!

Thank you to all of the Mums and Dads who joined in. Most of you have paid your £10, however we are still chasing some.

If you pledged for the Great Moor Park Shave Off, feel free to add your pledge movies onto the JustGiving Page!

Thank you!
